

FOREWORD

Education has emerged as a force and vehicle for the socio-economic development of the country. Investment on education contributes towards the accumulation of human capital resulting into shift to knowledge-based economy. Education is instrumental to poverty reduction by increasing the productivity of the poor, efficiency of labour, reducing fertility and improving health. This enables people to participate fully in the economic and social development of the country. It also enhances the capacity building of nation's institutions resulting into good governance for planning and implementing national policies.

Availability of valid, reliable, comprehensive and up to date educational data are pre-requisite for policy formulation, its implementation and monitoring and evaluation. The lack of data or poor quality of data on the key aspects of education compels the decision-makers to make their decisions on estimation and intuition, which often do not bring the desired results. Moreover, data alone cannot solve any problem, properly collected and analyzed data facilitates planners and managers for making informed decisions for the efficiency and effectiveness of education system.

National Educational Management Information System (NEMIS) is maintaining national database in order to fulfill the information requirements of policy formulation, decision-making, interventions and resource allocation and of other national and international organizations. Present database is linked to public sector institutions only and thus cannot be considered comprehensive. Thus a complete national picture cannot emerge unless information in respect of all the above-mentioned educational institutions is collected. Therefore, the Ministry of Education decided to conduct First National Education Census (NEC) 2005 in collaboration with Federal Bureau of Statistics, Statistics Division to collect information from all categories of education institutions from pre-primary to tertiary levels. The census was initiated in November, 2005 and completed by 30th June 2006 within the shortest possible time. Through census information has been collected from all categories of education institutions including public and private sector institutions and Deeni Madaris.

The data collected through the NEC will facilitate the development of comprehensive data bank having information in respect of each education institutions functioning in the country. The information will help the decision-makers to use data for planning, management, monitoring and evaluation of the education system at various administrative levels. The data will provide base to develop vital education indicators, which will help the decision makers for necessary interventions in the education system.

I take due opportunity to appreciate the efforts made by Federal Bureau of Statistics, and Academy of Educational Planning and Management for organizing the census I also thank UNESCO and USAID for their support in this project.

Federal Minister for Education
Government of Pakistan

PREFACE

National Education Management Information System (NEMIS) has been functioning in the Academy of Educational Planning and Management since 1993. The main functions of the NEMIS include collection, processing, storage, retrieval, analysis and dissemination of education data. However, NEMIS database only contains information regarding public schools while information in respect of private educational institutions, technical vocational institutions, professional colleges, universities and Deeni Madaris was partially available.

Pakistan has been signatory to a number of international declarations such as the basic right of education to all of its citizens, Millennium Development Goal and the Dakar World Education Forum 2000. The government has taken several policy measures and initiatives to achieve these international goals. To monitor the achievement of these goals, education data on key indicators are required which can also be made available to various national and international agencies for analysis and planning purposes.

Recognizing these aspects, the Ministry of Education decided to conduct a National Education Census (NEC) in collaboration with the Federal Bureau of Statistics. Through this census, the information has been collected from all categories of educational institutions functioning in the country. The census contains information in respect of the number of educational institutions, their management and type, location, gender, enrolment, availability of physical facilities and expenditures. Moreover, information in respect of each individual educational institution has been added in the database which now to be analyzed to see the progress made and to identify the policy interventions needed for achieving the objectives of the education reforms.

I appreciate the help and cooperation extended by Statistics Division for conducting the census in the shortest possible time. Particularly, my gratitude goes to Mr. Asad Elahi, Secretary, Statistics Division and his team for successfully completing the census. I am also grateful to the Academy of Educational Planning and Management and Ministry of Education' teams for conducting the census, particularly Dr. Fayyaz, JEA (P&P Wing), Dr. Pervez Aslam Shami Izaz-e-Fazeelat, Project Director/DG AEPAM, Mr. Dawood Shah, Joint Director/Focal Person NEC, Mirza Tauhiduddin Ahmad, NEC Coordinator, Mr. T.M. Qureshi, DEA (P&P), Mr. Imamuddin Sheikh, TA and Miss. Sarwat Hamid Butt, Education Statistician, NEMIS for their services in completing the National Education Census.

PREFACE

Federal Bureau of Statistics (FBS), Statistics Division is an apex organization in the country for the collection of socio-economic data. It has well-established infrastructure throughout Pakistan, which is catering the needs of policy makers. Federal Bureau of Statistics has also undertaken activities related to education sector. It has conducted a Census of Private Educational Institutions in 2000. The Ministry of Education maintains database on education through its National Education Management Information System (NEMIS) with the collaboration of its counterparts- provincial education management information systems (EMISs). The Ministry of Education needed comprehensive database to cater the needs of educational planning and management because data of just public sector schools was not enough and data for private educational institutions which are growing very fast, has not been available regularly. To have comprehensive database information on the education sector the Ministry of Education planned to have a complete enumeration of all categories of institutions both in private & public sectors.

In view of this National Education Census 2005 was initiated by the Ministry of Education and Academy of Educational Planning and Management (AEPAM) and Statistics Division and FBS. The FBS was responsible for field operation and electronic data processing. Both FBS and AEPAM jointly made the preparation and launched the National Education Census 2005. The data has been collected from the entire country including FATA, ICT, Northern Areas and Azad Jammu and Kashmir. All types of educational institutions i.e. government, private and deeni madaris have been visited and information on the questionnaire has been collected by enumerators recruited particularly for National Education Census assignment. FBS data processing center processed the data and produced reports as per tabulation prepared by AEPAM.

I would like to pay compliment to my team members Mr. Khalid Mahmud, Deputy Director General, Mr. Bashir Ahmed Choudhary, Director, Mr. Muhammad Hanif Shakir, Chief Statistical Officer, Mohammad Afzal Arian, Deputy Director General and other staff of Regional offices and National Education Census.

Comments and Suggestions for the improvement of this report will be most welcome.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The National Education Census (NEC) 2005 has been conducted for the first time in the history of Pakistan. Reliable, accurate and comprehensive database is a prerequisite for any type of planning. Obviously planning and management of education system at all levels also requires information based on the comprehensive database including all categories of educational institutions in the country. Thus the need for National Education Census was being felt from all quarters for more informed and visionary policy formulation, decision-making, efficiency, effective reforms and quality of education.

In the past incomplete database was being used which had partial information of private sector schools, colleges and universities, technical and vocational education, professional institutions, deeni madaris etc. There was no data to visualizing the total expenditure on education, as expenditure by the private sector was not available. Planning of education was affected because of the incomplete data, which is clear from the existing gap between planning and implementation. Even at international level our ranking among the countries of the world remained low due non-availability of complete data which sometime caused embarrassment for the authorities.

Keeping in view the multiple concerns the Ministry of Education decided to conduct National Education Census (NEC) 2005 in collaboration with Academy of Educational Planning and Management (AEPAM) and Federal Bureau of Statistics (FBS), Statistics Division. The census aimed at complete enumeration of all categories of educational institutions in the country and establishment of comprehensive National Data Bank on Education.

The National Education Census (NEC) covered 245,682 institutions which includes public and private schools, colleges and universities, professional institutions, vocational and technical institutions, mosque schools, deeni Madaris, non-formal basic education centres, distance education centres, special education institutions etc. The census has primarily focused to gather data on the level, type and management of the institution, enrolment, teaching staff and their qualifications and training, non-teaching staff, medium of instruction, building and other facilities available and expenditure. The data on different aspects of institutions have been collected for the year 2004-05.

Methodology

Following the model of Population Census 1998 the whole country was divided into 26,809 urban blocks and 50,582 villages.

Data collection tools were developed and pre-tested along with instructional manual for the use of field staff.

1100 enumerators were recruited and given training through master trainers before field operation.

Media campaign both print and electronic was launched simultaneously. All the Provincial Secretaries of Education, District Nazims and heads of the universities were contacted to facilitate and cooperate in the census.

Field operation that was initiated in November 2005 was completed in May 2006. The entire data collection activity was carried out through 34 Regional/Field Offices of FBS. The filled in questionnaires were retrieved back at Islamabad where editing process was carried out through a team of editors especially recruited and trained for the job. After cleaning and processing the data, reports were produced as per tabulation plan prepared by AEPAM.

In order to ensure complete coverage, accuracy and adherence to the timeframe a comprehensive monitoring process was devised by FBS and Ministry of Education. The teams of monitors of FBS and Ministry of Education continuously tracked the data collection process through out the country.

Information collected through census has been disaggregated by province/regions, level (primary, middle, secondary etc.), management (public, private etc.), location (urban/rural), gender (male/female) etc. Since this is the first comprehensive education census in the country therefore its results are not directly comparable with the data collected through administrative set up. However, where found necessary comparisons have been made with the available data from National Educational Management Information System (NEMIS) and other sources.

Major Features of NEC

National Education Census (NEC) 2005 is a milestone as its outcomes provides a comprehensive picture of education in Pakistan and complete enumeration of all the categories of educational institutions.

NEC data reveals that out of 26,809 urban blocks, 6149 were without institutions and out of 50,585 villages, 10,908 had no institutions.

The total number of institutions covered in the census is 245,682 out of which 164,579 are in public sector and 81,103 are in private sector.

From the covered institutions 12,737 (11,589 schools and 1,148 others (almost all are in public sector) have been reported as non-functional. The Sindh province has reported the largest share of non-functional institutions i.e. 7,442 around 58.5%. Similarly there were 4,126 and 1,028 cases of refusal and out of reference period respectively. The refusal cases are about 1.7% of the total, which is quite satisfactory for such type of census. After excluding non-functional, refusals and out of references cases the net number of institutions for which the data is collected is 227,791.

The over all enrolment in the institutions is recorded as 33.380 Millions with teaching staff of 1.357 Million. In 151,744 Public Institutions the enrolment and teaching staff have been reported as 21.258 and 0.724 Million respectively. Whereas the 76,047 institutions in Private Sector have 12.121 Million enrolment and 0.633 Million teaching staff. The results are further discussed below by type of institutions, enrolment, availability of facilities, buildings, medium of instruction, expenditure etc.

Schools

The census after excluding non-functional, refusal and out of reference has covered 201,092 schools (Pre-primary = 1081, Mosque = 14,123, Primary = 122,349, Middle = 38,449, Secondary = 25,090). If schools are disaggregated according to public and private sectors then 144,732 Public Schools (pre-primary = 287, Mosque = 14,035, Primary = 105,526, Middle = 14,334 and Secondary = 10,550) and 56,360 Private Schools (pre-primary=794, Mosque = 88, Primary = 16,823, Middle = 24,115 and Secondary = 14,540) have been covered. The public sector schools covered in census for the year 2004-05 are 156,864 compared to 159,613 schools of NEMIS. The enrolment in public sector schools is 19.65 Million compared to 19.44 Million enrolment of NEMIS.

Inter and Degree Colleges

The census has reported 1,882 colleges in the entire country out of which 1,025 are in public sector and 857 in private sector. The enrolment is 1,158,489 out of which public colleges house 936,632 students. Among them 53% are females.

Universities

The total number of public and private universities and degree awarding institutions in Pakistan are 114 (2005-06). However, NEC 2005 covers information of 49 (31 public and 18 private) General Universities having 194,971 enrolments. Whereas technical/professional universities have been grouped along with related institutions.

Technical/Professional

The census has covered 1,324 Technical/Professional Institutions out of these 426 are in public and 898 in private sector. The total enrolment is reported as 361,534 out of which 103,179 are in public and 258355 is in private sector.

Vocational/Poly Technique

NEC has covered 3,059 vocational/poly technique institutions (916 public and 2,143 private). Similarly the overall enrolment is recorded as 238,687 (89,646 public and 149,041 private).

Non-Formal Basic Education (NFBE) Centres

The census has covered 4,831 NFBE centres whereas the Ministry of Education report indicates 10512. The less coverage may be due to their typical nature of functioning within the dwelling units without any proper identification as of other schools.

Deeni Madaris

It is the first time that Deeni Madaris have been individually enumerated through a census. Out of 12,979 Deeni Madaris, 12,153 Madaris provided the information and the enrolment is recorded as 1,549,242.

Availability of basic facilities in Public Institutions

In Public Sector Institutions 37.8% are without any Boundary wall, 32.3% without Drinking water, 56.4% without Electricity, 40.5% without Latrine and 6.8% without Building. The non-availability of basic facilities is predominately in schools and in rural areas.

Educational Institutions by Ownership and Condition of Building

The census has revealed that 83.3% of the public schools are in government buildings followed by 5.7% rent free. The private institutions are predominately housed either in rented (43.1%) or owned (42.8%) buildings followed by 11.6% in rent free.

Further 51.6% buildings of all the institutions are in satisfactory conditions and 42.7% need major or minor repair. However, 5.7% buildings have been reported in dangerous condition.

Medium of Instructions in Educational Institution

Public Sector Institutions predominantly (68.3%) follow Urdu as medium of instruction followed by 22.4% have Sindhi medium of instruction and only 1.4% have English as medium of instruction. In Sindh Public Schools in rural area almost all follow Sindhi as medium of instruction. In Private Sector 57.2% follow Urdu as medium of instruction and 28.4% institutions follow English.

Expenditure on Education

The census results indicate that expenditures in private sector institutions during 2004-05 are Rs. 35.91 billion which are three times higher as compared to last census of Private Educational Institutions conducted in 2001. The public Sector expenditure on education is about Rs.132 billion. The private sector spending on education is higher than reported in this census because about 9000 institutions have refused to provide the information on expenditures.

Basic Educational Indicators

In public sector institutions there are 140 students per institution against 159 in Private Sector. Similarly there are 29 students per teacher and 5 teachers per institution in public sector compared to 19 students per teacher and 8 teachers per institution in Private sector. Male vs Female student ratio indicates that 135 and 127 Male students against 100 Female students are studying in public and private institutions respectively.

NATIONAL EDUCATION CENSUS 2005

INTRODUCTION

Since the inception of Pakistan, the Ministry of Education is striving for quality education in the country. It is a fact that the educational activities have expanded many folds in the country and touching new dimensions. The planning, management and controlling of hydra-headed educational activities is not possible without reliable, accurate and comprehensive data. The Ministry of Education is constantly focusing its efforts to achieve vast proportion of its goals and also overcome the complexities in education system. It has addressed along with other areas the effective management of acquisition and supply of relevant information for educational planning and informed decision making.

Moreover, the quantitative statistical approach in educational planning and management is of utmost importance. Various dimensions of data have significant implications in planning for the future. Hence all the plans for improvement and expansion of the educational system need to be facilitated with relevant data for properly designing and casting. The feasibility of such plans depends on the adequacy and accuracy of the data collected and analyzed for making future projections. To cater for the needs and to have a comprehensive database on education the Ministry of Education decided to initiate National Education Census (NEC) 2005.

National Education Census (NEC) 2005 has been conducted for first time in the history of Pakistan for complete enumeration of all categories of institutions in the country.

Rationale

Following major facts formulated the basis for National Education Census:

- Lack of comprehensive National Data Bank on Education.
- Non-availability of public and private sector data on college education, technical and vocational education, teacher education, professional institutions, etc (engineering, medical, law, agriculture, home economics, etc.) universities and deeni madaris.
- Non-Visualization of expenditure on education by private sector.
- Embarrassment in the international circle due to insufficient information.
- Inappropriate reflection of Pakistan in international ranking (135).
- Concern of all Provincial Education Ministers and regional heads as well as planners and managers.
- Dependency and reliance on estimated data for Planning and decision-making.
- Incomplete data for computation of education indicators for EFA, MDGs, PRSP etc.
- Strengthening of education management information system and online dissemination.

Keeping in view the demand, needs and concerns for the requirement of data, the Ministry of Education launched National Education Census in November 2005 to achieve the following major objectives.

Objectives

Major objectives of the National Education Census are as under:

- Census/Enumeration of all categories of educational institutions in the country

- Establishment of comprehensive National Data Bank on Education and facilitating online service for sharing and dissemination
- Collect information of each and every institution in Pakistan
- Support decision makers and educational managers in planning, management, resource allocations, monitoring and evaluation of education sectors at different levels
- Cater the requirements of national and international agencies/institutions

Methodology

Following the model of Population Census 1998, the whole country was divided into 26,809 urban blocks and 50,582 villages.

Data collection tools were developed and pre-tested. A copy of the draft questionnaire was also provided to the UNESCO, for comments and assurance to meet the international standards. Necessary improvements were made in the questionnaire based on feedback. The Technical Advisory Committee approved the final version of the NEC questionnaire before printing.

The Academy of Educational Planning and Management (AEPAM) prepared Instructional Manual for the use of master trainers and field staff in collaboration with Federal Bureau of Statistics (FBS).

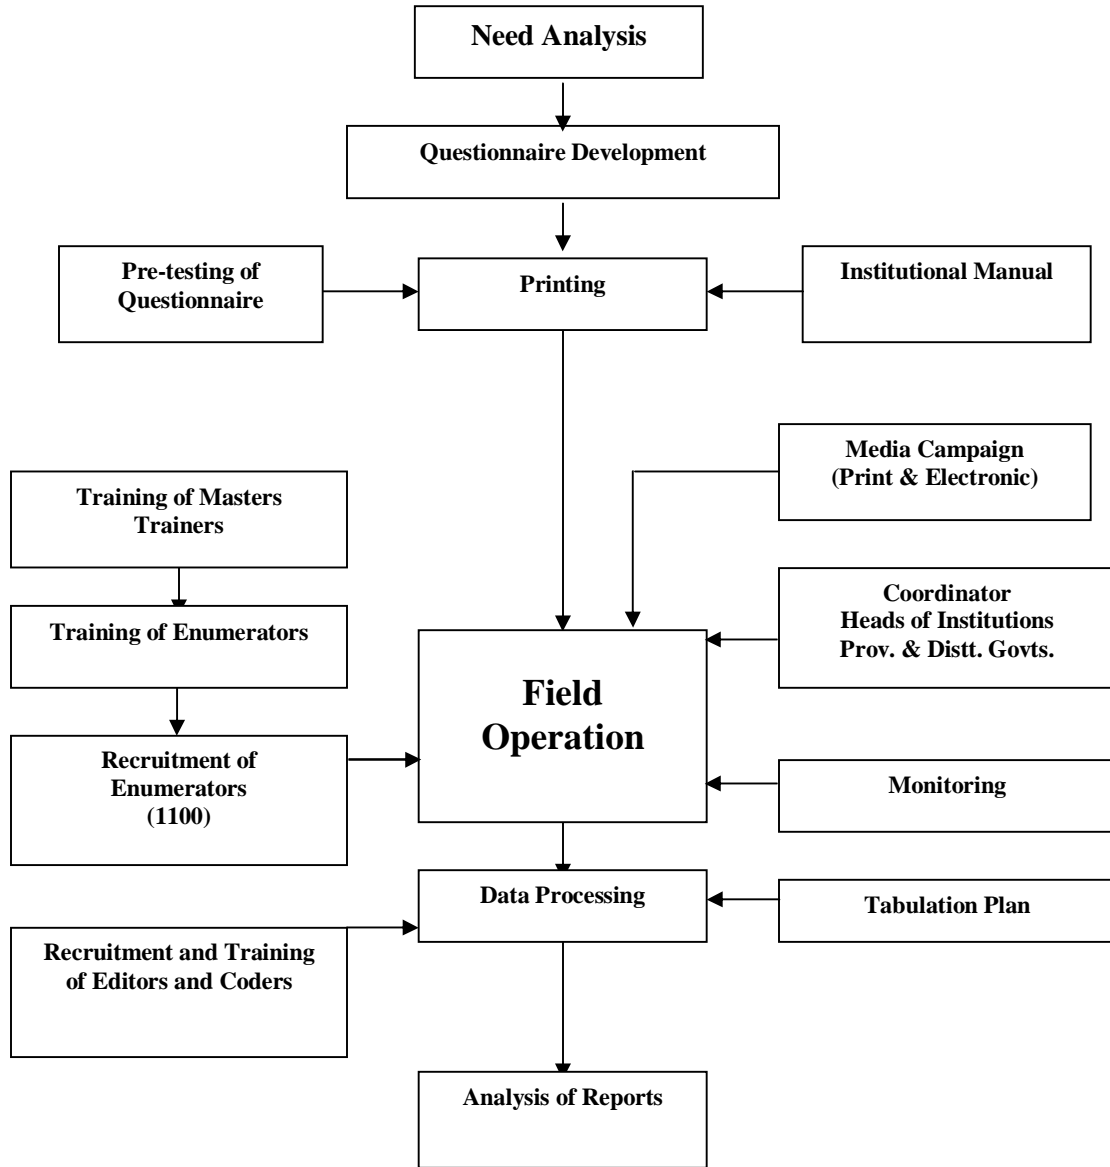

A three-day workshop was organized to train master trainers. The master trainers were drawn from the Regional and Field Offices of the FBS.

For data collection 1100 enumerators were recruited and special training programs of three days duration were organized in each Regional and Field Offices of the FBS. The master trainers conducted these training programs before launching the field operation.

Realizing the need for public awareness Media campaign both print and electronic was launched simultaneously. All the Provincial Secretaries for Education and District Nazims were requested to extend their cooperation in field operation.

Executive District Officers (Education), administrators of privately managed schools and heads of the universities were also contacted for their assistance and cooperation during the census.

NEC OPERATIONAL FRAMEWORK

The Federal Minister for Education inaugurated the field operation on November 22, 2005 at City School Campus, Islamabad. The FBS simultaneously initiated the field operation throughout the country to cover 26,809 urban blocks and 50,582 villages. The entire data collection activity was carried out through 34 Regional/Field Offices of Federal Bureau Statistics (FBS) and was completed in May 2006. Data of National Education Census was collected by combination of personal interview and record based techniques.

In order to ensure complete coverage, accuracy and adherence to timeframe a comprehensive monitoring process was devised by FBS and Ministry of Education. The teams of monitors of FBS and Ministry of Education continuously tracked the data collection process through out the country. Each supervisor checked 10% of the work of each enumerator. Moreover, working committee comprising members of FBS and AEPAM regularly met twice a week to monitor the progress and resolve issues arising during the field operation.

For the presentation of data the tabulation plan was developed by the AEPAM in collaboration with FBS. The filled in questionnaires were retrieved back at Islamabad where editing process was carried out through a team of editors especially recruited and trained for the job. The FBS Data Processing Centre at Islamabad carried out the data cleaning and processing. The reports were produced as per tabulation plan prepared by the AEPAM.

Method of Data Collection

For the collection of data following method was followed:

- 1 The enumerators visited villages in rural areas and Enumeration Blocks in urban areas assigned to him/her by the concerned Regional/Field Office. The enumerators in a rural areas first met village headman or Patwari/Tapedar to locate the boundary of the village. He/she started his/her work from some well-known point in the village i.e. mosque, school etc. and proceeded in a systematic way in the enumeration area and filled-in the questionnaire of first educational institution which he/she found as per instructions. He/she recorded the particulars of the institution on the Listing Form as well which was already provided. After completing the enumeration of first institution he/she moved to the next institution and recorded this school on the Listing Form and filled in the questionnaire and so on. In urban area the enumerator identified the boundaries of enumeration block with the help of sketch map provided by the concerned Regional/Field Offices. The listing/enumeration was completed in the same manner as explained for Village.
- 2 Every enumerator was instructed to contact the head of the institution and if not available then the next senior. He/she showed the introductory letter issued by the Ministry of Education and explained briefly about the objectives of the census. Most of the information, which was sought, was based on the record of the institution. If institution authority indicated that they need little time to fetch the information from their record then enumerator visited the next institution and returned back as per agreement. Enumerators were advised to keep Manual of Instruction with them at the time of visit to the institutions so that if any thing needed can be explained and clarified.
- 3 After getting all information on the questionnaire the enumerator got the certificate signed from the responding authority of the institution.
- 4 Non-functional or closed institutions were reported after verifying from the responsible people of the area.
- 5 In case of refusal or reluctance to provide certain information the cases were brought into the notice of supervisor for assistance.

Coverage

The National Education Census covered all the educational institutions run by Government, Semi Government, Autonomous Departments, Armed Forces, Private, Community, trust, NGOs etc. as under:

- 1 Schools
- 2 Colleges
- 3 Universities
- 4 Professional institutions

- 5 Vocational and Technical institutions
- 6 Deeni Madaris
- 7 Mosque schools
- 8 Special Education institutions
- 9 Distance Education centres
- 10 Non-formal Basic Education centres etc.

Tuition Centers where students studying in other institutions come for additional coaching have not been covered. Educational Academies with independent certificate/degree programs have been included except those where students come from other institutions for additional coaching.

Following Blocks and Villages in Urban and Rural areas were visited to cover the all categories of educational institutions:

Region	Total Areas
	Urban (Blocks)	Rural (Villages)
Punjab	14,978	26,001
Sindh	9,029	5,871
NWFP	1,913	7,337
Balochistan	615	6,557
FATA	-	2,596
FANA	64	566
Azad Jammu Kashmir	210	1,654
Pakistan	26,809	50,582

Data Analysis

The National Education Census 2005 addressed following major indicators:

- 1 Number of Institutions,
- 2 Enrolment,
- 3 Teaching Staff,
- 4 Non-teaching Staff,
- 5 Medium of Instruction,
- 6 Facilities: Science laboratories, library, computers, printers, play ground, hall,
- 7 Furniture, boundary wall, toilet, electricity, gas, drinking water etc.
- 8 Expenditure, etc.

Information collected through the census has been disaggregated into Provinces/ regions, type, level (primary, middle, secondary etc.), management (public, private etc.), location (urban/rural), gender (male/female) etc.

Since this is the first comprehensive education census in the country therefore its results are not directly comparable with the data collected through Administrative set up. However, where found necessary comparisons have been made with the available data from National Education Management Information System (NEMIS) and other sources.

Reference Period

Reference Period for this census is 31st January 2005 for enrolment, teaching staff and building but for expenditure the information was collected for the entire year i.e. from July 2004 to June 2005 (2004-2005).

Data Quality

In order to have quality data strong monitoring mechanism was devised and followed:

- 1 Supervisors in the Regional/Field Officers were required to check the 10% work of Enumerators
- 2 Teams from FBS headquarter were sent throughout field operations in all parts of the country to check the quality of work as well to ensure complete coverage.
- 3 Ministry of Education had also deputed their monitoring teams and these teams checked the field operations from all aspects i.e. coverage and quality.

Problems

- Winter Vacations

Field Operation was started on in November 2005 just after completing training of field staff. The Educational Institutions remained closed due to winter vacation for most of the time in December 2005 and January 2006 and in some northern areas up to 15th March 2006, which caused delay in data collection activities and its further processing.

- Reluctance (Non Co-operation)

Among the private institutions and Deeni Madaris a number of heads of educational institutions were reluctant to supply the information particularly regarding income and expenditure due to fear of tax imposition. Despite repeated clarifications that individual data will be kept confidential and that only aggregate data will be used for official purposes, even then some of the respondents were reluctant to supply the needed data.

Limitations

- 4 This census covered Public and Private educational institutions set up on 31st January 2005. As such the institution established after 31st January 2006 were not included in the data.
- 5 Tuitions centres have not been included in this census.
- 6 There were problems in the identifications of NCHD and NFBE centres as majority of these are functioning in the already existing schools and dwelling units respectively without showing their own identity. This factor may have caused less reporting of these institutions.

MAJOR FEATURES

MAJOR FEATURES

The importance of educational statistics for successful planning and efficient administration in education can hardly be over-emphasized. The need for accurate and timely data is being increasingly felt in every sphere engaged in the task of educational planning and development.

To realize the goals it was felt that there was a need for data consolidation and interpretation at national, as well as provincial levels. Now since the district governments are functional, they need different data sets to prepare district plans, longitudinal studies in education as well as learning materials etc.

Further, within the context of EFA, MDG, commitments to international declarations and recent devolution on education reforms, it was desired that at various levels data on all categories of educational institutions be furnished to decision makers. Therefore, in order to facilitate in evidence-based formulation and result oriented program implementation and monitoring, efforts were made to carryout National Education Census (NEC) across the country.

After compilation and consolidation of NEC data, an attempt has been made to prepare national and provincial documents consisting of the comprehensive education data by level, type etc. It will help in computing education indicators for the preparation and implementation of educational development plans and its monitoring.

Major features and findings of the National Education Census are as under:
